The Banquet.

The society event of the holiday season was the Masonic and Eastern Star Banquet at the Auditorium, Tuesday night. A large crowd assembled, bearing well filled baskets of delicious edibles. Coffee and chocolate were prepared at the auditorium and delicious feast was served.

Dr. J. H. Fletcher acted as Master Ceremonies and the happy performance of his duties "was some performance, we are here to tell you" while the tables were being prepared, ladies of the Eastern Star, under direction of Mrs. Estelle Vore, entertained the audience with instrumental and vocal music so uniformly noteworthy as to make any specific mention impossible. The musical program was varied by the interspersing readings by Mrs. R. H. Hudspeth and Mrs. Tom Heath, both accomplished elocutionists.

After this "feast of reason and flow soul," supper was announced and down to the delicious repast, the serving of the meal was only time the Master of Ceremonies was silent during the evening's performance. For that once he was completely "lost in the shuffle."

After the inner man had been satisfied, and at the urgent solicitation of the Master of Ceremonies, several after-dinner speeches were delivered. W. J. Long, Rev. M. K. Fred and Judge V. H. Blocker delivered entertaining and instructive discourses on the beauties of Masonry after which this writer told a few fishy stories and wound up with a big fish. After this infliction the meeting flamed, amid numerous good wishes a Happy New Year while the whistling, the bells clanged and the men boomed announcing the advent of a New Year, and the banquet had gone into history along with the old year.

W. A. Mask, Sentry.

S. A. Jungman, Manager.

T. C. Barnes and S. A. Jungman, delegates to the head camp, with G. R. and W. C. Beal as alternates.

Resolutions on the Death of Prof. J. W. Covington.

In behalf of the Mothers' Club and the pupils of the Hondo High School it becomes our sad duty to record the death of Prof. J. W. Covington, which occurred at Carlsbad, Texas, Nov. 20, 1912.

"Leaves have their time to fall, and flowers to wither at the north winds breath. But thou hast all seasons for thine own, oh, Death."

When we see the aged taken from us we feel that we are robbed of our counsellors and guides. When the young die our fondest hopes are shattered, but when they are stricken down as was Prof. Covington, in the prime of life, we are dumb with amazement and can only find comfort in the assurance that our Heavenly Father never makes mistakes.

Prof. Covington had charge of the Hondo schools during the term of 1908-9. Being endowed with a brilliant intellect and the many Christian qualities that constitute the true gentleman, he not only won the love and esteem of all his pupils but the entire confidence of his patrons and the community at large. During his stay in Hondo he organized our Mothers' Club, it being the first in Medina County, and we feel that the success we have achieved is largely due to his inspiring talks and words of encouragement.

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED:

FIRST. That in his death the State of Texas has lost one of its best teachers, the index of whose character all would do well to emulate. That the lessons of his manly life shall continue to live in the hearts of all who knew him.

SECOND. That his family has lost a devoted husband and loving father, that in their dark hour of sorrow we assure them of our sincere sympathy.

THIRD. That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the pages of our minutes, one sent to the bereaved family and a copy be furnished each of our town papers, The Anvil Herald and The Times for publication.

MRS. G. W. MONKHOUSE,
MRS. H. G. HENDERSON,

Uncle Si Haskins.

One of the largest and one of the most artistically complete attractions that has appeared here for a long time is "Uncle Si Haskins", which will be seen at the Auditorium next Monday night.

The organization, numbering sixteen people, comes universally endorsed with a triumphant record from coast to coast.

As a play, "Uncle Si Haskins" compares favorably with "Old Homestead" in atmosphere, spirit and character. Truly, it is one of the enduring American successes that is always welcome.

A feature to be seen is the midday parade and band concert.

You Men Who Are Going to Buy Cars This Year—See What This Car Offers

Gray & Davis
Electric Starting and Lighting System
Left Side Drive
Center Control

PAIGE 36

$1275

DOES ANY OTHER CAR in the Paige price field offer you the famous Gray & Davis Electric Starting and Lighting System? Possibly, but look it up. See if they do. Several of the $3000 to $5000 cars do, and they feature the system. The Paige "36" chassis was designed for the Gray & Davis system. It is a part of the car.

This car is a revelation in motor car building. No other manufacturer is building such a car to sell at such a price. Maybe later, but not for this year. The Paige "36" is a next year's car—ready for delivery now.

Extraordinary as the design and equipment are, the Paige should be considered first just an automobile. And just as an automobile—a dependable, comfortable, handsome automobile—a car of good materials, correct construction and fine workmanship—a car that's always on the job—the Paige has earned high rank. Any Paige owner—and they are almost everywhere—can tell you what a car, just as a car, the Paige has proved itself.

Study Paige design; consider the Paige motor, famous because we have never let a Paige motor that wasn't absolutely right leave our factory; read carefully what the word equipment means when it is Paige equipment; take an expert to see the Paige car and hear what he says; then decide.

Paige "36" offers five types of body from which to choose your car: 5-passenger Touring Car, Model Glenwood; 3-passenger Roadster, Model Westbrook; Raceabout, Model Brighton; 4-passenger Coupe, Model Montrose; 5-passenger Sedan, Model Maplehurst.

116 in. Wheel base
34 x 4 in. Tires
Silent chain driven motor gears
Cork insert clutch
4 x 5 in. motor

Equipment

Gray & Davis electric starter.
Gray & Davis electric lighting system (generator and electric motor in separate units, storage battery and all connections, switches, etc.)

Bosch magneto.
Ventilating windshield, built into body.

Silk mohair top (tan lined) side curtains and boot.

Stewart revolving dial speedometer.

Heavy Nickel Trimmings throughout.

12 inch electric head lights, Parabolic design—black enamel and nickel.

5 inch electric side lights, flush in dash, crystal cut lens.

3 inch electric ruby light at rear.

34x4 inch tires.

Five demountable rims.

Adjustable foot rest.

Nickel robe rail. Extra tire irons.

License brackets.

Horn, pump, jack, tools, tire repair outfit, etc., complete.

PAIGE 25—$950

For those who want a car smaller than the Paige "36" our 1913 line offers the Paige "25" a car value—price considered just as remarkable as the "36".

The Paige "25" is a car of proved success. Even lacking some of the refinements and some of the equipment of this 1913 model, the Paige "25" last year established sensational success.

Careful construction and real workmanship, made this car a leader in the thousand dollar field.

For 1913 we offer the two most popular body types of Paige "25," Model Brunswick, 5-passenger touring car, $950, and Model Kenilworth, a snappy, graceful roadster, $950.

The price—only $950—seems impossibly low when you consider the car and its equipment.

Paige "25" is regularly equipped in nickel trimming with rain vision windshield, silk mohair top, top boot and curtains, Stewart speedometer, 5 nickel and black enamel lamps, Prest-O-Lite tank, 5 demountable rims, extra tire irons, horn, pump, jack, tools, etc.

GEORGIA LIKELY TO SHAKE PROHIBITION

HOKE SMITH, MADE SENATOR, TO MAKE WAY FOR ANTI-STATE-WIDERS FOR GOVERNMENT.

EXCISE WARS IN OTHER PLACES

Prohibition Seems to Have Been Balked in Ohio by the Form of the Question to Be Voted On—Gov. Cruse, of Oklahoma, Puts It Up to Prohibits to Find Their Own "Soaks"—Promise of a Liquor "Soaks."

Washington.—The election of Hoke Smith to the United States senate will make it incumbent upon him to step out of the governorship of the state of Georgia, and the signs are that, in the election of his successor, the state will enter upon an exceptionally warm campaign over the liquor question. Georgia has a state-wide prohibition law now, which Gov. Smith was chiefly instrumental in putting upon her; but the liberalized sentiment of the people is for something less widespread and that will at least give the communities that want saloons the liberty of having them.

The state-wide prohibition law was given to the state by a legislature not elected on that issue, and no popular vote was taken on it. The people have shown a strong inclination to retain the assumption of prerogative by their unauthorized sojourns, and the growth of anti-prohibition sentiment has emboldened Judge Richard Russell, one of the candidates for the succession, to come out flat-footed for local option, on the avowed theory that state prohibition in Georgia is a dead failure. And now comes former Gov. Joseph M. Brown as a candidate, of whom the Atlanta Constitution announces in big lines over its political speculations that the "Gubernatorial Contest Will Probably Revolve Around Prohibition—Ex-Gov. Brown Holds the Key to the Situation—All Eyes on Him Awaiting His Decision About Running and to See What Stand He Will Take—Reported He Will Favor Reference Direct to the People."

These candidates represent both the "Progressive" and the conservative wings of the party; and whoever of the two may win, it looks as if statewide prohibition were doomed in Georgia.

Prohibition Balked in Ohio.

Both sides in Ohio are lining up for the liquor fight that the popular convention of next year for the drawing of a new State Constitution is sure to see. The delegates are to be chosen at the election of next month. The issue will not, however, be so definite as between the state-wide prohibitionists and the liberals, as it was at first thought to be. Ohio now prohibits the issuance of license by the state, but has a quiet law, under which bar men do business and pay a fine of $1,000 a year for doing it, that is in the nature of a license. The law authorizing the framing of a new Constitution merely puts the question whether that way of dealing with the excise problem shall be continued or whether the state shall establish the license system.

The question of the acceptance of the provision in the state convention may draft on that subject for the new Constitution, is to be submitted separately and the law directs that it shall be thus put:

"Shall the traffic in intoxicating liquors be licensed or shall the licensing of such traffic be prohibited?"

Already the drys are suspecting that the action of the legislature in separating the liquor issue, and more especially in the form of the alternative questions submitted have left them holding the bag. This is in all likelihood the reason why Wayne B. Wheeler, state superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league, is reported as saying that "so far as he is concerned, he would be willing to see both the alternate liquor provisions defeated, since that would leave the present constitutional provision regarding saloons untouched."

Sharp Move in Oklahoma.

In Oklahoma, where the Prohibitionists have deluged the courts with complaints against speak-easy violations of the Prohibition law, and made the authorities tired, Gov. Cruse has put it up to the Prohibitionists themselves to run down cases and get the evidence; and it looks as though by the end of the year ten thousand citizens of Oklahoma will be bearing commissions from the governor and state enforcement officer authorizing them to act as special deputy enforcement officers under the Prohibition law. In effect Gov. Cruse says to the Prohibitionists of Oklahoma:

"This is your law; you voted for it; it is yours to create and maintain a sentiment favorable to its enforcement; it is yours to see that the law is strictly enforced."

Kansas the Next to Vote Wet.

Kansas is tired of prohibition, in the opinion of J. B. Billard, mayor of Topeka, who will make the race for governor on a re-submission platform. He thinks this will be the paramount issue in the Sunflower state in 1912. As to the "reasons for the faith that is in him," he says the prohibitory amendment was adopted thirty-one years ago, by a majority of only about 8,000, at a time when the prohibition wave was at its crest, and when there was practically no organized effort to resist it.

Nothing equals SCOTT'S EMULSION for lung and bronchial weakness—sore, tight chests and all pulmonary troubles.

EARTH'S BETTER DAY DRAWS NEAR

Passing of the Year Suggests Closing of Present Age.

PROPHETIC OF THE FUTURE

Pastor Russell Says the Dawning of the New Year Should Remind Us of the Epoch Which God Has Promised. Dawning of the New Era is Manifest to All, but Understood by Few—The Lord Is Judging His People and Is About to Reward the Faithful.

PASTOR RUSSELL

Louisville, Ky., Dec. 29.—Pastor Russell delivered two addresses here today. We report one of them from the text: "He that sat upon the Throne said, Behold, I make all things New.  Write, for these words are true."—Revelation 21:5.

Pastor Russell reminded his hearers that his text is a prophecy by the Redeemer, who in these words declares the work of His Messianic Kingdom. Similarities are found on every hand between the close of the year and the close of the Age. The sowing and reaping of the year, with their associated hopes and fears, and labors with sweat of face, have been accomplished. The harvests have been gathered; and on well ordered farms the brush and brambles, thorns and thistles, have been destroyed by gehenna fires. In general, it is a time of preparation for a fresh start.

In the business world the closing of the year is the time for taking stock and for taking account of the profits and losses of the year. In other words, it is a time of judgment, or decision.

It is a time for dropping the unsatisfactory and for putting the business on a proper footing for the next year. It is a time for issuing dividends, or rewards, to those who have made wise investments. It is a time for the meeting of directors and for the electing of officers and servants for the new year. So at the close of this Age, its affairs are being wound up. The Lord is judging His people and is about to reward the faithful in glory. And the world's condition must be set in order for the new arrangement of things about to be inaugurated.

"He That Sat Upon the Throne."

Earth is the one province of creation which is in rebellion against the Creator and at variance with His laws. Man, the King of earth, was created in the image of God, with the Divine Law written in his heart, and only "a little lower than the angels." But this earthly king, Adam, rebelled against his Over-Lord, Jehovah, disobeyed His laws and brought himself under a sentence of death, "Dying, thou shalt die."

The laws of heredity have so operated that today the children of Adam find the average of life only thirty-five years, and but few individuals pass the century mark. But Adam in his perfection, less favorably circumstanced, was nine hundred and thirty years in dying. The dying experiences of the race are manifested in mental and moral degradation, as well as in physical. With all our knowledge and medical skill the race continues to weaken, and the ratio of the insane to increase.

Once, Bible students would have stated that God is upon the throne and delights in the present order, which the Bible declares to be a reign of sin and death. Once, Bible students would have declared that, not satisfied with the present awful conditions the Creator has arranged that at death all humanity except the Elect Church shall be turned over fully to the control of demons. These by Divine foreordination will be empowered to everlasting torture the poor unfortunates of Adam's family beyond the power of man's tongue to tell.

These same Bible students would have resisted the suggestions that God is not reigning over the earth—that instead, the world is under the domination of Satan, the "Prince of this world" (Age).—John 14:30.

But with facilities for Bible study far superior to anything enjoyed by our forefathers, Bible students find that Christian people have overlooked many features of the Divine record. As the eyes of their understanding gradually open more widely, they are seeing lengths and breadths and heights and depths of God's Wisdom, Love, Justice and Power, of which they never dreamed before.

We are finding that our horrible teachings of the past, which have so generally caused a spiritual nausea, came not from the Bible, but were "doctrines of demons," promulgated during the Dark Ages. "Now the Spirit speaketh expressly, that in the latter times some shall depart from the faith, giving heed to seducing spirits, and doctrines of devils."—1 Timothy 4:1.

"The God of This World."

St. Paul tells us that the present blindness and ignorance, which hinder mankind from seeing and appreciating God's real character and Plan, are deceptions by Satan. He says, "The god of this world [Age] hath blinded the minds of them which believe not, lest the light of the glorious Gospel of Christ  should shine unto them."—2 Corinthians 4:4.

Now, properly enough, comes the query, If Satan is ruling amongst mankind as a god, or prince, of this world, where did he get his authority and power? Did God turn over the control of mankind to demons?

The Bible answers all our queries. God did not give the dominion of earth to Satan, but to man. In proportion as man lost his perfection and became weak in mind and body, he became the slave of sin and Satan. Satan and the fallen angels have exercised—especially for the last forty centuries—all their power and ingenuity for the ensnarement and degradation of man. Their influence would have been all-powerful for man's overthrow, had not the Almighty provided humanity with will power and to a large extent forced the evil spirits to respect it.

As a result we see that human depravity has made much less rapid progress than it might have done. Man still possesses to some extent traces of the image of God in which he was created. Many still possess a natural appreciation of truth and righteousness, and considerable will power, which under God's arrangement the fallen angels are not able to overcome. If mankind realized the true situation, undoubtedly the human will would be more persistent than ever exercised in opposition to the wills of the Devil. As it is, these evil spirits hide their identity, and through spirit mediums personate the dead, who, according to the Bible, "know not anything," being asleep in death until the resurrection morning.

"I Make All Things New."

The Redeemer of men, by the Father's appointment, is to be the great King of Glory, who will reign for a thousand years, and "make all things new." Repeatedly He tells us that the first work of the New Dispensation will be the binding of Satan. Not only is this referred to in Revelation 20:2, but also in our Lord's parables.

Jesus declared that when the time should come His Second Advent would take place. He likened it to the coming of a thief in the night, when men in general would be off guard, not expectant of a change in the rulership of earth. He intimates that His loyal saints will first be taken, while mankind will be in ignorance of the fact that the time has come for the Reign of Righteousness. Next the Son of Man will "bind the strong man, and then He will spoil his house"—overthrow present arrangements.

This picture implies a struggle, for the strong man—Satan—has a great host serving him, ignorant of the fact that he is a usurper, and that many of his laws are unjust.

Many of them have never understood that He who redeemed the world by the sacrifice of Himself, holds a Divine appointment to be King of Earth, to overthrow the rebellion and bring back into harmony with God all the willing and obedient. Many do not know that this Messianic Kingdom will be God's fulfillment of the Redeemer's prayer, "Thy Kingdom come! Thy will be done on earth, even as it is done in Heaven." Many therefore do not know that all things are to be made new, and that the time appointed by the Father for this great work is a period of a thousand years, now chronologically due to begin.

Not knowing these things, many will be found fighting against God, thinking that in supporting the institutions of the Prince of this world they are doing God a service. The Redeemer is amazed most distinctly that some of these ignorant ones will be prominent in the ministry in His own Church. They will be surprised that when the honors of the Kingdom are distributed they will receive none, but will suffer humiliation and tribulation as unfair servants. The Master's words respecting these are, "Many will say to Me in that day, Lord, Lord, have we not prophesied [preached] in Thy name? and in Thy name have cast out devils? and in Thy name done many wonderful works?"

But the new King will say to these, "Depart from Me—come not near to share in My Kingdom. Instead of working righteousness, you have been workers of iniquity. Instead of serving Me as ambassadors for My Kingdom and properly representing Me before men, you have done the reverse. You have upheld unrighteousness, promulgated doctrines of demons, and have been My adversaries, not My servants. Depart with weeping, wailing, gnashing of teeth, expressive of your disappointment, to be sharers with the world in its great time of trouble, from which My faithful Bride class will be delivered."

Whatever reformation your share in that tribulation shall effect will determine what I may do for you or with you in the future, in harmony with the Divine arrangements. But I cannot recognize you as in any sense worthy of the glory, honor and immortality which shall be accorded to the Bride class.—Paraphrase on Matthew 7:22, 23; 13:40-43; 25:13; 25:30; Luke 13:25-28; 12:45-48.

Destruction of Old Things.

Looking at the change from the Jewish Age to the Gospel Age, we perceive that during a period of forty years God dealt with fleshly Israel—from the time when Jesus' ministry began until Jerusalem was destroyed by the army of Titus. That forty-year period the Master styled "the Harvest" of that Age. The gathering of the wheat progressed close down to the consummation—the separating of the chaff meanwhile progressing.

Finally, when the wheat had been gathered into the garner of the New Dispensation, by the begetting of the Holy Spirit, the chaff was consumed in a time of trouble which utterly destroyed the Jewish polity. The destruction of the chaff did not signify the annihilation of unbelieving Jews, nor their eternal torture. It represented, parabolically, the complete destruction of their Jewish hopes. Those hopes have lain buried for eighteen centuries, and are only now reviving, in the form of Zionism.

The parable of The Wheat and the Tares (Matthew 13:24-30), pictures the Lord's work during the Gospel Age. Jesus and the Apostles sowed only good seed, the pure Message of the Messianic Kingdom which a solid few would attain, and which ultimately would bless all the families of the earth. But Satan, through his various agencies (many of whom wore the mystery of Christ) oversowed the wheatfield with tare seed—false doctrines, "doctrines of demons."

From this unauthorized sowing of the Adversary—as a result of these false doctrines which he caused to be promulgated in Christendom—many nominally came into the Church of Christ. These never really professed to be wheat, never had the begetting of the Holy Spirit, never were disciples in the only sense that Christ acknowledges any to be His followers.

As tares resemble wheat, so these deceived people, the progeny of false doctrines, think themselves Christians and greatly outnumber the true Christians, just as the chaff of the Jewish nation outnumbered the "Israelites indeed." As God then gathered the wheat, the "Israelites indeed," into the spiritual House of Sons by the begetting of the Holy Spirit, so now He will gather the faithful ones of this Age into the Heavenly garner by the resurrection change. As the prospects and the hopes of the nominal Israelites, or chaff class, were consumed in the great time of trouble which closed that Age, so the hopes and prospects of the tare class will perish in the great fire, or time of trouble, with which this Gospel Age will close.

The change near at hand will be much greater than that of eighteen centuries ago. There Jesus merely sent forth the Message for the calling out of His Church. But here the Church, being compacted, is to be glorified; and Messiah's Kingdom is to completely overthrow the kingdom of Satan. The Scriptures, in illustrating the radical change to take place in the near future, refer to the Deluge, which completely overthrew the systems of wickedness and unrighteousness then prevailing. The Apostle Peter tells us that in the end of this Age, the overthrow of present institutions will be as complete as in the days of the Deluge.

St. Peter declares that the present earthly elements of Capital and Labor, aristocracy and common people, plutocracy and socialists, will be in a terrible strife, which can be properly symbolized only by a consuming fire. Thus the present evil world is represented as being consumed by the strife of its elements.—2 Peter 3:10-13.

More than this, St. Peter declares that the heavens also will take fire—ecclesiasticism will become involved in the strife and will pass away with a great commotion. But let us remember that it is neither the physical earth nor the Heaven of God's habitation that will burn up. It will be merely the social and religious institutions, which under the supervision of the Prince of this world are styled, "the present evil world," or imperfect arrangement.

As St. Peter points out, the present order will be superseded by a new order. St. Peter calls that new order "new heavens and a new earth, wherein dwelleth righteousness." The new heavens will be the Church in glory, in Kingdom power. The new earth will be the new social arrangements instituted, guided, directed by the new heavens—Messiah's Kingdom.

The New Kingdom will enforce its laws as with a rod of iron—inflexibly. No longer will it be true that whosoever will live godly will suffer persecution, and have all manner of evil said against him falsely, as a reward for faithfulness to Christ and the Truth. On the contrary, in the Day of Messiah's Kingdom, the righteous shall flourish, and all wilful evildoers shall be cast off in the Second Death.—Psalm 72:7, 37:9.

The Lord through the Prophet calls attention to this new condition, saying, "Behold, I create new heavens and a new earth; and the former shall not be remembered, nor come into mind." (Isaiah 65:17.) Our context tells us of this same "new heavens and new earth" condition as taking the place of the present order of things. It then describes the Church under the symbolism of the "New Jerusalem," the capital of Messiah's Kingdom, and center from which authority will go forth for mankind's assistance out of the fallen conditions of sin and death.

We also read that through those blessed provisions, "God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes, and there shall be no more death, neither sorrow, nor crying; neither shall there be any more pain; for the former things [the present evil world] are passed away." The work of renewing will require the thousand years of Messiah's Kingdom and will be successful to the highest degree.

Let all whose eyes of understanding have been opened to see these things rejoice, and tell abroad the glorious story that the period of the reign of sin and death is expiring, and that the new period of the Reign of Righteousness is near at hand, bringing life everlasting to every one that will be obedient. With this thought before our minds, the dying of the year 1912, and the birth of the year 1913, will bring us joyful suggestions, helpful in all the experiences of life—especially to those who have become the followers of Jesus. Those who are seeking to walk in His steps, willing to suffer with Him for the Truth's sake, shall in due time be glorified with Him, as members of His Elect Bride class.

His Stomach Troubles Over.

Mrs. Dyspeptic, would you not like to feel that your stomach troubles were over, that you could eat any kind of food you desired without injury? That may seem so unlikely to you that you do not even hope for an ending of your trouble, but permit us to assure you that it is not altogether impossible. If others can be cured permanently, and thousands have been, why not you? John R. Baker, of Battle Creek, Mich., is one of them. He says, "I was troubled with heartburn, indigestion, and liver complaint until I used Chamberlain's Tablets, then my trouble was over." Sold by W. H. Windrow.

Some men seem to have outlived their usefulness, when as a matter of fact they never had any.

A Hero In A Lighthouse.

For years J. S. Donahue, So. Haven, Mich., a civil war captain, as a lightkeeper, averted awful wrecks, but a queer fact is, he might have been a wreck, himself, if Electric Bitters had not prevented. "They cured me of kidney trouble and chills," he writes, "after I had taken other so-called cures for years, without benefit and they also improved my sight. Now at seventy, I am feeling fine." For dyspepsia, indigestion, all stomach, liver and kidney troubles, they're with out equal. Try them. Only 50cts. at W. H. Windrow's.

A small boy doesn't find it very amusing to do the things his parents are willing to let him do.

Escaped After Fifteen Years

W. P. Brynes made a successful escape after fifteen years of suffering from kidney and bladder troubles. Foley Kidney Pills released him and will do just the same for others. He says: "They cured a most severe backache with painful bladder irregularities, and they do all you claim for them." Take the "direct road" to health and strength by using Foley Kidney Pills for backache, rheumatism, weak, sore kidneys and bladder irregularities. They are the best medicine you can buy for kidney and bladder ailments. W. H. Windrow.

The way some people put it on, eight hours play is a lot harder than eight hours work.

Hints For Housekeepers

Keep Foley's Honey and Tar Compound always on hand, and you can quickly head off a cold by its prompt use. It contains no opium, heals and soothes the inflamed air passages, stops the cough, and may save a big doctor's bill. J. P. Higgins, Stanton, Wis., writes that "One bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound cured me of a 'bad' cough. I find it a sure cure for coughs and colds." In a yellow low package. W. H. Windrow.

WOMEN

Women of the highest type, women of superior education and refinement, whose discernment and judgment give weight and force to their opinions, highly praise the wonderful corrective and curative properties of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. Throughout the many stages of woman's life, from girlhood, through the ordeals of motherhood to the declining years, there is no safer or more reliable medicine. Chamberlain's Tablets are sold everywhere at 25c a box.

HAVE HIGHEST RECOMMENDATION
S. A. Davis, 61 Washington St., Worcester, Ind., is in his 80th year. He writes us: "I have suffered much from my kidneys and bladder. I have sores between my kidneys and my kidney action was too free, etc., causing me to lose much sleep. I took Foley Kidney Pills for some time and am now free of all trouble and again able to be up and around. Foley Kidney Pills have my highest recommendation."

TEXAS NEEDS GREAT MEN

XXII. ACTION

HEN Demosthenes was asked to assign three reasons for his success in life, he replied: "First, ACTION, second, ACTION, and third, ACTION, and this marvelous Athenian is recognized as the most polished and powerful product of the human race. Since the dawn of history, men of action have moved the world and civilization owes its advances to men who by words and deeds have turned the wheels of progress. An hour of action is worth a lifetime of hesitation. Texas needs men of action to start a million plows, build factories, construct 50,000 miles of railroad, improve 140,000 miles of public highways and build a thousand cities.

DEMOSTHENES IN ACTION.

Let him who would make his life a message to mankind arouse thoughts from their dumb cradles and make them whirl like a potter's wheel; awaken ambition from its leaden slumber and make it surge and climb the towering heights of fame and power; stir nations unborn like a tremendous force moved by a divine hand and speak in accents yet unknown mighty words that sway and inspire the human heart as it leaps to glory. CHRISTMAS DAY IN BETHLEHEM.

AT this season of the year probably no city of the ancient world presents a more picturesque or attractive aspect than Bethlehem, whose population is many times multiplied by the presence of a vast army of pilgrims from every part of the globe. Mecca, in the height of the great annual Moslem infit, or Hurdwar, in upper India, at the season of the sacred festival, may have much greater but they cannot be said to have more devout or more cosmopolitan crowds than those that flock to the city of David in the Christmas week. Shaped wonderfully like a crescent, yet the only thoroughly Christian town in all Syria, Bethlehem puts on its gayest garb as Christmas approaches. At all times a pretty and attractive place, it is then a thousand-fold more so. The thrifty townspeople, their handsome wives and dark eyed daughters, prepare for the festivities weeks in advance and are ready to welcome the first arrivals.

No words can adequately describe the grandeur of the Christmas services at the Church of the Nativity, which is the center of interest for the pilgrims. These services are kept up the entire week. On the way to church the visitors are beset by peddlers, who insist on pushing under their very noses little ornaments of olivewood and mother-of-pearl. The Church of the Nativity is one of the oldest shrines in existence, and, although it has been repeatedly repaired, it still retains much of its original form and character. In the side aisles at different altars priests chant the service in tones that swell and die amid the tall columns that support the roof.

At the shrines groups of pilgrims kneel in reverent adoration, while still other groups are guided around the church by monks, who point out the rich reliques and sacred places, the most venerated of all being the shrine of the manger, beneath the church, which, it is claimed, incloses the actual birthplace of the Saviour. During the Christmas festivities this manger shrine is resorted to by great multitudes, who crowd each other in their pious eagerness to kiss the marble slab on the floor with a silver star in the center.

So fervid and enthusiastic are these worshipers that the marble slab has been repeatedly kissed away in places, rendering a new slab necessary. The same experience has occurred with the stone covering of the crypt in the Church of the Holy Sepulcher in Jerusalem, which has had to be renewed several times in consequence of its outer surface being literally kissed away by pious devotees. The tradition is that Christ was once laid in this manger. A few feet distant is the chapel of the Magi, where the wise men of old, Melickior, Caspar and Balthazar came worshiping with rare gifts.

A subdued, rich light is diffused throughout the grotto by the softly glowing lamps over the star, and the swinging censers lend an agreeable odor to an otherwise close and musty atmosphere. All worldly thoughts are banished as the kneeling pilgrims listen spellbound to the melodious chant of the sacred office or the full, sturdy, noble singing of the grand looking, bearded priests. The low roof, the "living rock," the censers, the music, the lights, all seem to dissolve, and in their stead there appear to the moist eyes of the adoring pilgrims the manger cradle with the babe, the Virgin mother and Joseph, the mean surroundings, the oxen and their litter of straw and the gentle, wondering sheep.

The Christmas festivities, however, are not confined to the Church of the Nativity. The week is a general festival in the town and a season of financial harvest for its citizens. Like all orientals, they are thrifty to avariciousness, and the sight of the splendid gifts that are brought year after year to the church and especially the Grotto chapel, by strangers from afar widely excite their cupidity. Among those thousands that are living temporarily in tents, or, it may be, quartered in the more comfortable convent, there are many rich who can be easily persuaded into generosity when under the supernatural influence that seems to pervade everything at Bethlehem.—Philadelphia Record.

A Girls Wild Midnight Ride.

To warn people of a fearful forest fire in the Catskills a young girl rode horseback at midnight and saved many lives. Her deed was glorious but lives are often saved by Dr. King's New Discovery in curing lung trouble, coughs and colds, which might have ended in consumption or pneumonia. "It cured me of a dreadful cough and lung disease," writes W. R. Patterson, Wellington, Tex., "after four in our family had died with consumption, and I gained 87 pounds." Nothing so sure for all throat and lung troubles. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by W. H. Windrow.

I saved a doctor's bill for one 25c bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound." A mean stuffy cold, with hoarse wheezy breathing is just the kind that runs into bronchitis or pneumonia. Don't trifle with such serious conditions but take Foley's Honey and Tar Compound promptly. Contains no opiates. W. H. Windrow.

The Scrap Book

Regular Holdup.

Frank P. Morse, the press agent, walked into a fashionable hotel in Chicago one evening and wrote on the register the set of peculiar hieroglyphics which he is pleased to call his signature. "How much will you charge me for a room and bath?" he inquired, with an air of a man to whom money was not a question. The clerk told him, "Yes, yes," said Morse, with extreme urbanity. "Quite so. Now I would like to see Mr. James." "What Mr. James?" asked the clerk. "Mr. James, the proprietor of this hotel," explained Morse. What was more to the point, he grew very peevish when the clerk insisted that Mr. James was not the proprietor of the hotel and that no Mr. James was in the house. "You can't kid me," said Morse angrily. "I want to see Mr. James, the proprietor of this hotel, and I want to see him quick. I mean Mr. Jesse James, the most notorious robber of modern times--brother of Frank."

A Prayer.

Teach me, Father, how to go softly as the grasses grow.
Hush my soul to meet the shock
Of the wild world as a rock.
But my spirit, prop with power,
Make as simple as a flower.
Let the dry heart fill its cup,
Like a poppy looking up.
Let life lightly wear her crown,
Like the poppy looking down.
When its heart is filled with dew
And its life begins anew.

Teach me, Father, how to be kind and patient as a tree.
Joyfully the crickets croon
Under shady oak at noon.
Beetle, on his mission bent,
Tarries in that cooling tent.
Let me also cheer a spot,
Hidden field or garden grove—
Place where passing souls can rest.
On the way and be their best.
—Edwin Markham.

A Wise Father.

When Sherman Hoar, a lawyer of recognized ability, left the law school and opened an office in Boston his father, Judge Hoar, was at the height of his legal reputation. The young man's first client was an Irishman, and the case, though only some small matter of a boundary line, was one that required the examination of a number of deeds and records. Mr. Hoar accordingly told his client to come back in two days for his opinion. The Irishman left the office, evidently very reluctant at the delay. Turning at the door, he asked, "Couldn't we give me an answer tomorrow, Mr. Hoar?"

"No, no," was the reply; "come on Thursday."

The client went as far as the stairs. Then he turned and tiptoed back to the door and put his head inside, with fidget at his lips.

"Whist!" he whispered. "Couldn't we see your father tonight, Mister Hoar?"

A Scheme and a Luncheon.

One of Balzac's wild schemes was to plan to combine Paris theaters. One morning in September, 1839, ten literary friends of the great novelist met by invitation at his house. Before luncheon Balzac told them of his scheme. His idea was to form a trust to buy up all the theaters as a sequel to a smaller preliminary trust for the supply of plays to every theater in Paris. The ten guests were to supply them. He estimated the profits of the first year at £120,000, and each year would be thought bring in more money. He expounded his scheme at length for several hours, and finally one of the guests suggested that he might go on at table. The novelist started, "I forgot all about ordering anything to eat," he cried, and late in the afternoon the members of the shadowy trust made a shadowy meal of bread and cheese and sour wine in a small country restaurant.

TIMELY HINTS FOR FARMERS

Success In Hog Raising.

The whole secret of success in hog raising can be found only through a knowledge of the fact that the modern hog is an artificial animal which must be cured for by artificial means. The hog raiser must protect his animals against bad ventilation no less than against changes in weather conditions, and he must give great attention to sanitation wherever the hogs are kept. Attention to these things, with the knowledge that one of the great causes of loss among hogs is due to internal parasites, will come more nearly bringing success than is possible in any other way. Dust is a great enemy of hogs; accumulations in the pens are usually as bad, and when these are removed and the pens kept clean the hogs dipped occasionally for the destruction of mange and lice and given an occasional dose of some worm remedy the danger from loss has been reduced to a minimum.

Winter Wallow For Hens.

A box that is a few inches high, filled with dust or dry earth, makes an excellent wallow during the winter. If the poultry house is low build a low, open front scratching shed at one end. The dropping boards should be placed a couple of feet from the floor, feed hoppers and drinking fountains on platforms of a slightly lesser height, so that all floor space can be used as a scratching place for hens. Six inches of litter, straw, cut hay, fodder or wood shavings in which to throw the grain fed each day give the fowls their proper exercise. Such environment, together with well selected hens and feed, will result in profits from poultry during the winter.

Care of the Horse.

For the horse to be thrifty he should be cared for in bad weather. One great mistake that many make is in driving the horse too fast in cold weather, getting him too warm and then tying him in the open, exposed to the cold wind, rain or snow. This will give the horse pneumonia the same as if a man were treated in like manner. Given the best of feed and with the most care, yet not protected in the inclement weather, the work horse will not do well.

Dodson's Liver-Tone has given such perfect satisfaction to every person to whom W. H. Windrow has sold a bottle that this store will give the money back to any person who buys a bottle and does not find it a perfect substitute for calomel. It is worth something to you to try a medicine with a guarantee like that.

SHEEP REQUIRE SHELTER IN WINTER

Greatest Danger to Flock Comes From Rain and Sleet.

who is looking out for the flock should begin to watch for symptoms of colds and possible pneumonia in his flock. A flock drenched to the skin by a cold rain late in the fall is nearly sure to develop a few cases of heavy colds, and any additional exposure will be apt to cause some pneumonia. A dry, well lighted shelter, free from drafts and having a good, dry floor, will prevent serious trouble.

Dryness is the main requirement in a sheep shed. If it has a good roof, sides that are proof against blowing snow and sleet, and a good, dry floor, the sheep will be comfortable even if it is not very warm. A good, roomy, well lighted shed makes a good shelter for the flock in winter.

During the winter the sheep should be turned out of the shed on dry days, even if the winter is very cold. If it is not raining, sleet or snowing the ewes and lambs of last year should be out in the open all day long. Exercise is just as necessary for them as it is for any other live stock.

On days when there is a light fall of snow on the farm lot or when the ground is frozen pretty hard scatter fodder or hay on the snow or on the ground and let the sheep feed there till night. Scatter it over a good deal of ground, so the sheep will keep moving. It is very necessary that the breeding ewes should have a good deal of exercise all winter long.

Egg Flavors.

Eggs may be flavored by the feed given to the hens. Brood has nothing to do with the flavor of an egg. Good flavors are produced by keeping hens in clean quarters and giving them good feed. Eggs having a good flavor may be kept good by storing them in a cool place, where the air is fresh and clean. Eggshells are porous and will absorb bad odors, not as readily as milk or butter, but very much on the same order.

Poultry Pointers.

No exercise, no eggs. Eggs are sold by weight in Iowa. P stands for pure bred poultry and profits.

Cleanliness is the keynote to success with poultry.

It pays to feed your hens what they need at the time they want it.

If no longer pays to keep mongrel fowls--in fact, it never did pay.

Benefits of Rapid Milking.

It is claimed that fast milking increases both the quality and quantity of the milk. This belief is so firmly fixed in the minds of large dairymen that rapid milkers are much preferred to slow milkers.
